

Born of Independence, Built on Community

Two hundred and fifty years ago, our nation was founded on what was, at the time, a revolutionary idea: that communities thrive when they are governed by the people who actually live in them, free from the singular rule of a distant king. Today, that same independent spirit lives on through local, homegrown businesses.

Summer is flying by, and with August just around the corner, back-to-school season is almost here. While a new school year brings plenty of excitement, it also brings a financial burden for many local families and teachers working to stock their classrooms with essential supplies.

That's why we're partnering with Free2Teach, a Huntsville-based nonprofit dedicated to supporting public school teachers and the students they serve. Through its free teacher resource store, Free2Teach ensures donated supplies go directly into local classrooms where they're needed most.

To help fuel their mission, we're giving away a FREE Best Wash to everyone who donates a qualifying item from Free2Teach's most-needed supplies list. Simply bring your donation to any of our four Bubbles Express locations throughout July, and we'll thank you with our top-tier wash package. Better yet, there's no limit to how many times you can participate—every qualifying donation earns another FREE Best Wash.

Most-Needed School Supplies:

- Pencils, Colored Pencils, Mechanical Pencils, & Pencil Sharpeners
- Crayons, Markers, Permanent Markers, & Dry Erase Markers
- Spiral Notebooks, Wide/College Ruled Composition Books, Filler Paper, & Copy Paper
- Paper Towels, Latex-Free Gloves, & Hand Soap
- Glue Sticks/Bottles
- Binder & Folders
- Staplers & Staples
- Pens (Black/Blue/Red)
- Highlighters
- Calculators

Every qualifying donation also earns you an entry into that week's drawing for a FREE 1-month Unlimited Best Wash Membership. We'll draw one winner each week throughout July, so the more qualifying donations you make, the more chances you'll have to win.

Whether you're donating a single notebook or a bag full of supplies, you're helping local teachers prepare their classrooms and giving students the tools they need for a successful school year. It's a simple way to make a lasting impact—and drive away with a clean car, too.

Fireworks Residue Can Hurt Your Car!

There is nothing quite like sitting on the hood of your car on the Fourth of July, watching the sky light up in brilliant shades of red, white, and blue. But while those spectacular bursts are a treat for the eyes, they are a nightmare for your vehicle's clear coat. What goes up must come down, and the fallout from a professional or neighborhood fireworks show is packed with airborne soot, sulfur, unburnt black powder, and corrosive metal salts.

If left untreated, this festive fallout can cause serious damage to your paint. Protect your vehicle by getting a protective wash before the show, and a restorative clean after.

The Pre-Show Defense

Visiting Bubbles Express before the fireworks begin gives you the ultimate defensive advantage, especially when you opt for our Best Wash featuring the Graphene Shield.

Think of graphene as a microscopic suit of armor for your vehicle. When applied, it creates a highly durable, hydrophobic layer that bonds directly to your paint. Because graphene resists high heat and blocks microscopic contaminants, it prevents the hot ash and acidic soot of falling firework debris from embedding itself into your clear coat. Instead of landing directly on your paint, the holiday grime lands on a sacrificial barrier, making it significantly harder for the residue to cause permanent etching or staining.

The Post-Show Restoration

Once the grand finale ends and the smoke clears, the second half of your strategy begins. As those colorful shells explode overhead, they release fine particulate matter that slowly settles onto your vehicle, forming a gritty, gray film.

Leaving this soot on your car in the intense July heat is a recipe for disaster. The chemical compounds used to create fireworks are highly alkaline and reactive. When mixed with morning dew or high humidity, they activate, creating a corrosive mixture that can eat away at your paint's finish. Furthermore, if you try to wipe the ash off with a dry towel at home, you will simply grind those abrasive metallic particles into the paint, leaving behind fine swirl marks and scratches.

The solution is simple: get it to the tunnel. A quick post-holiday trip to the wash safely cleans the abrasive soot using pressurized water and specialized cleaning agents before it has a chance to bake in the sun. This Independence Day, protect your investment while you celebrate. Stop by for a Graphene Shield before the sparks fly, and we will be ready to wash the ash away the next morning!

Team Member Spotlight

Devin Vatz

Shift Leader – Hughes Rd

Devin is a Shift Leader at Hughes Road, but you can often find him lending a hand somewhere else. If there's a need, he's one of the first to step up, and that willingness to support the team wherever he's needed is exactly why he was nominated this month by the Site Leader at our Redstone location. Devin's flexibility, reliability, and commitment to delivering a great experience don't go unnoticed, and we're grateful to have him representing the Bubbles team. Whether he's helping teammates or welcoming customers, Devin consistently brings the kind of work ethic and positivity that helps make every shift run a little smoother. Devin was encouraged to join Bubbles by his fiancée, Madalyn, who is also part of the Bubbles family! Outside of work, he's currently in school pursuing a degree in dentistry, and shares a home with Madalyn and their three cats. Thank you, Devin, for everything you do for your teammates, our customers, and Bubbles. We appreciate your hard work, your positive attitude, and the example you set every day. Congratulations on being this month's Team Member Spotlight!

Beat the Boredom

Whether you're heading to the beach, Grandma's house, or just across town, these simple games can help keep kids entertained without a screen.

- The Alphabet Categories: Instead of finding letters in order, pick a category—animals, foods, or movies—and take turns naming something for each letter of the alphabet.
- Story Builder: One person starts a story with a single sentence. Each passenger adds one sentence before passing it to the next person. By the end, you'll have a story no one could have predicted.
- Rainbow Hunt: Choose a color and see who can spot the most objects of that color before moving on to the next one. First player to complete the rainbow wins.
- Packing Challenge: Start with, "I'm going on a trip, and I'm bringing..." followed by one item. Each player repeats the entire list before adding a new item. Keep going until someone misses an item!

Sometimes the best trip memories come from the conversations and laughter along the way.

Kids' Corner
